STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

This Bill is designed to impose an excise duty on sugar produced in Malaya in British India. The rate of tax is fixed so as to be equal to the duties of the corresponding surcharge over the figure by which, according to the Government's calculations, it would have been ascertained upon them to have the protective duty in connection of their power under section 4 of the Sugar Industry (Protection) Act, 1915, had the corresponding surcharge not been in force.

2. The administration of the duty will be entrusted to the Local Governments, working as agents for the Government of India, but the Bill has been so drafted as to enable it possible to revise this arrangement at a later stage.

3. Following the precedent of the Customs Duties Act, Indian States in which duties on produce will be levied, it is desired to suggest, for their own benefit, a corresponding excise duty, so as to maintain parity of law. This is a duty to impose duty on sugar imported from States that do not agree to the proposal, but it is hoped that no State in which sugar is produced will adopt this course.

Very truly,

The 27th February 1934.

GEORGE SCHUBERT.

Amended at the Session of 1904, Act No. 12 of 1904. 29 (4) In the Second Schedule to the Indian Tariff Act, 1904, for sub-head (a) of Item No. 120 and the entries in the third and fourth columns relating thereto the following sub-head and entries shall be substituted, namely:—

IN MATCHES—	Particulars of items—	Rate of duty—
(1) In forms containing no or little or only small quantities of gunpowder.	Fireworks in matchboxes or in other forms of containers, per gross of 100.	Four per cent.
(2) In forms containing no or little or only small quantities of gunpowder.	Fireworks in matchboxes or in other forms of containers, per gross of 100.	Four per cent.
(3) In forms containing no or little or only small quantities of gunpowder.	Fireworks in matchboxes or in other forms of containers, per gross of 100.	Four per cent.

(5) Notwithstanding anything contained in section 4 of the Indian Finance (Supplementary and Repealing) Act, 1905, the additional duty imposed by that section of that Act shall not be levied or collected on any article chargeable with duty under sub-head (a), Item No. 120 of the Second Schedule to the Indian Tariff Act, 1904, as amended by this section.

Amended at the Session of 1905, Act No. 12 of 1905. 30. The Excise (Duty on Matches) Act, 1905, is hereby repealed with effect from the first day of March 1910, but all the provisions of that Act, and of the rules made thereunder, shall continue to apply to any matches made in the first day of March, 1906, to duty under section 3 of that Act, and to any proceedings instituted in relation to any such matches.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The purpose of the Bill is to impose an excise duty on matches made in British India. The collection of the tax is, in the first instance, to be in the hands of the Local Governments working on behalf of the Government of India; but the Bill has been so drafted as to enable it to be made after arrangements as to local signs (if experience shows that to be desirable).

2. The great object of the Bill is to enable the Government of India to make into an agreement under which every State in which matches are made, or may in future be made, will receive a corresponding tax paying the proceeds into a common pool along with the proceeds of the British Indian tax; and the amounts in this pool will be divided on an estimated consumption basis between British India and all the States that have entered into the agreement. The power of prohibition of exports imposed in the Bill is to be used in circumstances provided in any State that desires to enter into the agreement.

3. The proposed excise duty cannot be imposed, side by side with the existing British duty on matches, and the British Act imposing that duty is to be repealed.

4. The excise duties on matches are levied, not as a measure of revenue, but as a means of protection for the Indian industry even when the equivalent of the excise duty is paid.

The Governor-General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, make rules providing for the carrying out of functions of any class of factories from the provisions of this Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

It was announced by the Honorable Finance Member in the course of his speech introducing the budget proposals for 1928-29 that the Government of India would introduce legislation which would enable Provincial Governments to apply schemes for enforcing a maximum price for cane to be paid by the factory to the grower. This scheme is contemplated in the expectation of an income duty on factory sugar. An initiative on the matter of fixing prices for cane must be left to Provincial Governments so as to suit local conditions. It is proposed that the Act should come into force in any province on such date as the Local Government may direct. The terms of the Bill is that after prior publication of its proposals and discussion thereof in the open public, a Local Government should declare controlled areas within which purchase of cane by factories shall be limited to amounts of cane or specified prices and quantities at fixed prices. In order to provide for elasticity of procedure in the administration of the scheme, it is also proposed to give wide rule-making powers to Local Governments.

- (n) the number of parts of the an consignment note;
- (o) the documents issued to the carrier to accompany the an consignment note;
- (p) the time fixed for the completion of the carriage and a brief note of the route to be followed, if those matters have been agreed upon;
- (q) a statement that the carriage is subject to the rules relating to liability contained in this Schedule.

8. If the carrier accepts goods without an an consignment note having been made out, or if the an consignment note does not contain all the particulars set out in rule 7 (a) to (q) inclusive and (p), the carrier shall not be entitled to avail himself of the provisions of this Schedule which relate to time-bar liability.

9. (1) The consignor is responsible for the correctness of the particular and statements relating to the goods which are made on the an consignment note.

(2) The consignor will be liable for all damage suffered by the carrier or any other person by reason of the irregularity, incorrectness or misrepresentation of the said particulars and statements.

10. (1) The an consignment note is given force in favour of the conclusion of the contract, of the receipt of the goods and of the conditions of carriage.

(1) The documents in the air management note relating to the weights, dimensions and packing of the goods, as well as those relating to the number of packages, are given in evidence of the facts stated; those relating to the quality, value and condition of the goods do not constitute evidence against the carrier except so far as they have been lost, and are stored in the air management note to have been started by him in the possession of the consignee, or relate to the agreed condition of the goods.

(2) Subject to his liability to carry on, the consignee has the right to deposit the goods by way following them at the warehouse of depositors or destination, or by shipping them in the course of his journey on any landing, or by calling for them to be delivered at the place of destination at the close of the journey to a place other than the warehouse named in the air management note, or by insuring them to be insured at the warehouse of destination. He must not exercise this right of disposition in such a way as to prejudice the carrier or other consignees and he must repay any expense occasioned by the exercise of this right.

(3) If it is impossible to carry out the orders of the consignee the carrier must so inform him forthwith.

(4) If the carrier ships the orders of the consignee for the deposit of the goods without requiring the production of the part of the air management note delivered to him in this respect, he will be held, without prejudice to his right of recovery from the consignee, for any damage which may be caused thereby to any person who is lawfully in possession of that part of the air management note.

(5) The right reserved to the consignee exists at the moment when that of the carrier begins to coincide with rule 13. Nevertheless, if the consignee declines to comply with the management note as to the goods, or if he cannot be brought into compliance with the carrier's orders, the carrier's right of disposition is not affected.

(6) Except as the carrier has an act in rule 12, the consignee is entitled, on arrival of the goods at the place of destination, to require the carrier to hand over to him the air management note and to deliver the goods to him, on payment of the charges due and on complying with the conditions of carriage set out in the air management note.

(7) Unless it is otherwise agreed, it is the duty of the carrier to give notice to the consignee as soon as the goods arrive.

(8) If the carrier admits the loss of the goods, or if the goods have not arrived at the place of destination or have been lost, the date on which they ought to have arrived, the consignee is entitled to put into force against the carrier the rights which flow from the contract of carriage.

(9) The carrier and the consignee can respectively enforce all the rights given them by rules 12 and 13, or in his own name, whether he is acting in his own name or in the interest of another, provided that he exercises the obligations imposed by the contract.

(10) Rules 14, 15 and 16 do not affect either the liability of the carrier or the consignee with each other as to actual receipts of goods or as to the rights and duties of the consignee as to the goods.

(11) The provisions of rules 15, 16 and 17 do not only be used by express provisions in the air management note.

(12) The consignee must furnish such information and attach to the air management note such documents as are necessary to meet the requirements of customs, frontier police and other authorities in connection with the goods.

(13) The carrier is liable to the consignee for any damage occasioned by the carrier, in addition to the liability of any such information or documents, unless the damage is due to the fault of the carrier or his agent.

(14) The carrier is under no obligation to require into the certificate or authority of such information or documents.

(G) The period of the carriage by air does not extend to any damage by land, by sea or by other perished vehicle or accident. It extends, with a carriage taken place in the performance of a contract for carriage by air, for the purpose of loading, delivery or unloading, any damage to personal property in the carriage, to have been the result of an event which took place during the carriage by air.

Nevertheless, by special contract, the carrier and the passenger may agree to a higher limit of liability.

(2) In the carriage of registered baggage and of goods, the liability of the carrier is limited to a sum of 250 francs per kilogram, unless the consignor has made, at the time when the package was handed over to the carrier, a special declaration of the value of the goods and has paid a supplementary sum of the same or multiples. In that case the carrier will be liable to pay a sum not exceeding the declared sum, unless he proves that that sum is greater than the actual value to the consignee as delivered.

(4) The limit mentioned in this rule shall be deemed to refer to the French franc consisting of 100 milligrams gold of milligram 900.

18. Any provision tending to reduce the amount of liability or to the limit hereof, that limit which is laid down in these rules shall be null and void, but the validity of any such provision shall not involve the validity of the whole contract, which shall remain subject to the provisions of this Schedule.

19. (1) In the cases covered by rules 14 and 15 any action for damages, however founded, may only be brought subject to the conditions and limits set out in this Schedule.

(IN ORDER 2.)

PROVISION AS TO LIABILITY OF MEMBERS IN THE EVENT OF THE DEATH OF A PASSENGER.

To describe the expression "member of a family" means wife or husband, parent, step-parent, grandparent, brother, sister, half-brother, half-sister, child, step-child, grandchild.

Provided that, in debiting any such relationship as aforesaid any illegitimate person and any adopted person shall be treated as being, or as having been, the legitimate child of his mother and reputed father or, as the case may be, of his adopters.

2. An action to enforce the liability may be brought by the personal representative of the passenger or by any person for whom benefit of the liability is under the law governing this enforceable, but only one action shall be brought in British India in respect of the death of any one passenger, and every such action by whomsoever brought shall be for the benefit of all such persons as entitled to a share in such action are deemed to be such claimants, or, not being deemed there, express a desire to take the benefit of the action.

3. Subject to the provisions of the law governing this the amount recovered in any such action, after deducting any costs and expenses from the defendant, shall be divided between the persons entitled to such proportions as the Court may deem.

4. The Court before which any such action is brought may at any stage of the proceedings make any such order as appears to the Court to be just and equitable in view of the provisions of the First Schedule in this Act relating to the liability of a carrier and of any proceedings which have been, or are likely to be, commenced outside British India in respect of the death of the passenger in question.

(STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

An International Convention for the unification of certain rules relating to international savings by air was signed at Geneva on October, 1921, by certain Governments. The Convention defines the liability of an carrier for injury or damage caused to passengers or goods. The Convention was not signed on behalf of India, but its provisions have been ratified by the Government of India and are, in their essence, identical to Indian enactments. These enactments, however, subject to the Convention as long as the respective legislatures to implement its provisions have been created. In this way they have formed the present Bill.

The Convention applies only to the transport of international savings by air, i.e., savings between two States regularly by the Convention, but as there is no law as to the subject in India, beyond the general law of contract and the law relating to carriage on land, the Bill is to provide for the Convention (and in Council) to make rules extending the provisions of the Convention also to internal savings by air.

F. NOTICE.

24th February 1934.

MR. RAU,
Secretary to the Government of India.

(As introduced in the Legislative Assembly.)

A Bill to provide for the abolition of unenforceability among the Hindus.

Whereas it is increasingly felt by the Hindu community that the disabilities, which are imposed by social customs and usage on certain classes of Hindus commonly known as the Depressed

Classes, and which have been in certain matters were legally recognised in the adjudication of rights and duties in civil and criminal proceedings, are repugnant to modern conditions and ideas of justice and social solidarity and should no longer be recognised by law or otherwise enforced, but should be severely discouraged. It is hereby enacted as follows:—

THE UNTOUCHABLES
ACT, 1916.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Untouchability Abolition Act, 1916.

(2) It shall apply to the whole of British India.

Untouchability not to be enforced in 1916.

2 Notwithstanding anything contained in any existing enactment, regulation or order and notwithstanding any custom or usage or interpretation of law, no penalty, disadvantage or disability shall be imposed upon, or any discrimination made or recognised against, any subject of the State on the ground that such person belongs to an untouchable caste or class among Hindus, and no civil or criminal court shall recognise any custom of untouchability or have its objection as such a custom.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The custom of segregation of certain Hindu classes as untouchable and untouchable and the social and other disabilities they suffer under in consequence of such custom, have been the subject matter of several resolutions. There has been continuous agitation on the part of the leaders of these Depressed Classes in they have been commonly called, as well as on the part of reformers among the main body of Hindus to put an end to this custom of untouchability and to the disabilities arising therefrom. Recent events have brought this agitation to a head, and there is at present a great wave of feeling throughout India for the removal of the disabilities of these Depressed Classes which in the interest of humanity and general welfare should be taken up by the State. It is, therefore, desirable that a general law should be passed prohibiting the recognition of any rights or disabilities arising out of the usage regarding untouchability, either in civil or criminal courts.
